

What is NYLT:

The first step in the BSA Youth Leadership Training continuum is conducted in the home unit called Introduction to Leadership Skills for Troops/Crews. Boy Scouts and Venturers who have 1) completed this training and 2) have reached the age of thirteen but not yet eighteen, (for Venturers not yet twenty-one) may participate in the next step by accepting the challenge of the Council level National Youth Leadership Training (NYLT).

Unit leaders have the primary responsibility for training their youth leaders. The purpose of the National Youth Leadership Training is not to assume that role, but rather support it. The NYLT week is filled with activities, presentations, challenges, discussions, and camping in a team and model unit environment. Participants learn and practice skills that are valuable at home, church, school, work, and the Scouting unit.

The course is designed for youth members 14 years of age and older. However, a mature 13 year old may attend, especially if they hold a leadership position in the unit. Since a Scout only takes this course once, we want them to get the maximum benefit from this experience; therefore, it is essential that they be able to handle the demands of this advanced course, which requires maturity, experience, and proficiency in basic camping skills.

At NYLT, a temporary training unit is formed consisting of youth from Venture Crews and Boy Scout Troops from across the council. This training unit is instructed and led by a highly qualified group of outstanding youth trainers and adult mentors. At the end of this conference the Scout returns to their home unit with advanced knowledge of leadership skills and patrol/troop/crew operations.
